Security standards

For your peace of mind regarding security, in addition to the printing options, the following in-house working procedures are in situ:

- Your contact person remains the only person with whom we discuss details of your security choices and graphic layout.
- The production process is located within a secured and controlled environment.
- The number of tickets registered on the printers is also checked manually
- A misprint register is kept and any misprints are logged when destroyed.
- An individual register is kept for those clients who have tickets with a high face value.
- All products are secured in a vault, with security screened personnel overseeing shipment.
